United Way
As I write this, we are preparing for our annual conference that we host here at Mill Race Center. SEEK 2017: “Advancing Age Friendly Communities,” will have taken place on August 24th, with the Senior Expo on August 25th. Our keynote speaker for this year’s conference is Dr. Manoj Pardasani from Fordham University. I hope that by the time that you read this, you will have experienced the conference in person, and will be looking forward to SEEK 2018. A lot of hard work goes into each conference, and the staff here at Mill Race Center appreciate the patience and flexibility of our membership who set aside their programs for a couple of days so that we can invite people from around the region to participate in our SEEK conferences. The conferences are a major source of revenue for the Center, which enables us to continue to provide cutting-edge programs. (The Total Brain Health series came to us through a relationship that we developed with last year’s keynote speaker, Dr. Cynthia Green.) We would not be able to do what we do if we did not have such amazing members who are gracious about sharing our Center. Thank you!

I would also like to encourage you to participate in our annual survey that will be distributed in the November/December newsletter. We rely on the feedback from your survey to help us design our programs, and to measure our effectiveness. As always, we welcome your input. I can always be reached at dmustard@millracecenter.org.

Reflexology @ MRC!
Reflexology is a healing art based on the premise that there are reflex areas in the feet and hands that correspond to all of the glands, organs, and parts of the body.

If a practitioner finds sensitive areas on your hands or feet, he/she should work them gently. Reflexology should be a pleasant, relaxing experience. Light touch will be just as effective as deep pressure because reflexology works nerves, not muscles.

Leslie Dyar, a certified reflexologist who received her training at I.U.P.U.I., is available for 30 and 60 minute sessions at the MRC on Monday and Tuesday mornings from 8:00-12:00 and Mondays from 4:00-8:00pm. All sessions are by appointment.
